

Downtown Mr. Brown

Stop the presses! Hold the phone! Drop your pants! No, wait! Dang.

Anyway, we just got a call from San Francisco, from a dude code-named Mr. Brown ... but fondly remembered around here as Chris Kahunahana, one of the driving forces behind the now semidefunct Honolulu Underground Film Festival. Chris K. and his bro Chad recently relocated to San Francisco, where they landed one of the choicer jobs in town — running the well-known jazz joint Storyville.

This week, Chris is bringing some of the talent he regularly books in the S.F. club for two epic nights. On Friday it's Double Trouble — an offshoot of the brothers' S.F. gigs of the same name, which feature live hip hop, MC's and DJ/turntablists. Arriving with Mr. Brown are DJ Shortkut of the Invisbl Skratch Piklz and M3, who regularly throws down a huge S.F. party known as Green Gorilla Lounge. Complementing the pair is live music by HI-State's V.M., DJ Gijo and Zolo; MCs Buzzy, Fame and Mez; DJs Kavet the Catalyst, Bumble Bee, Rise-up and more.

On Saturday, it all picks up again with Univibe, a double-venue show that again features Shortkut and M3, along with locals Scotty Soul, Daniel J, Gary-O, Danny Boy, G-Spot, Erotic and a host of other local hotties spinning at Indigo. Down Nu'uaniu Avenue at a new gallery, Artmosphere, look for screenings of past HUFF entries, an art opening and generally cool vibes. (And pssst — did you hear about "Nu'uaniu Nights," the art-
