..... Drummer boys

The Wave Waikiki bids its final adieu this weekend with a set of parties that will forever remind folks of its longstanding status as Honolulu's premier night spot. The iconic Waikiki locale will host one final Planet of the Drums event Friday before it closes early Sunday morning. The party, which is being called "America's Premiere Drum-N-Bass Music Festival" is a coming-together party for DJs to drop their stuff and show the rookies how it's done.

Orlando's AK 1200, New York's Dara, Philadelphia's Dieselboy and MC J-Messinian along with special guest Shy FX (pictured), will take the wheels for the Wave's final days.

Local DJs KSM and Sovern-T will open. The upstairs lounge is reserved for the drum-n-bass shy—DJs Ikon, G-Spot and BTF will be doing house and breaks. —K.H.
