All the rave

It's going to be one nation under one perpetual groove when Thee-o hits Galaxy Friday night.

One of L.A.'s most well respected progressive trance and house genuines who prides himself on consistency each and every time, Thee-o will bless the techs with an exclusive two-hour power set.

The well-schooled and well-traveled son of So-Cal has played with Oakenfold, Chemical Brothers, Underworld, Orbital and even rubbed elbows with hip-hop cats like Outkast and The Roots.

He dabbled in hip-hop and house early on, but it wasn't until the rave scene boom in the early '90s that he set out to open ears and minds on a professional tip.

His latest creation Periodic Stress on his Biohazard label is a blend of techno and electro. Fiends craving more Thee-o can listen to his Hazardous Radio Show on XM Radio.

And to think before he got into music, he dreamed of becoming an opera singer.

PSI, DJ Betty, Sovern-T, Ikon and G-spot will also bless the decks with the best dance music around 'til the sun comes up and roosters start to crow. —Kalani Wilhelm

Galaxy, 1739 Kalākaua Ave., Sat, 11/18, 9PM-6AM, $10 limited presale, $12 at the door, all ages, BYOB, tickets online at www.groovetickets.com or charge by phone at 1-877-87-GROOVE, info at www.double-o-spot.com

The big one two

One could say this party was 12 years in the making, but it's a festive event every year. This time will be no different as Indigo Eurasian Cuisine celebrates 12 years of award-winning business and no-frills one-of-a-kind nightlife.

Flying in for the occasion will be house music icon Jesse Saunders. The legendary Saunders, a Honolulu regular and main attraction wherever he spins, will be sure to prove that your body won't move if you can't feel it groove for the Indigo faithful.

After enjoying a menu to die for by the great Chef Glenn Chu, the downtown locale will pay homage to the steady list of DJs who have brought the Opium Den and Green Room to life over the years. Featured spinners that will provide the evening's celebratory soundtrack will be G-Spot, Kavet the Catalyst, Jason S., Sovern-T, Mark, Ms Angel, Jahson 45 Revolver, Sean G and the Nocturnal Sound Crew.

The only thing early birds usually catch is the worm, but at this party, it's free cocktails from 9 to 10PM.
