

Music for a cause

It's a rare day when more than 20 DJs band together and donate performances, but that's what happens each year for DJs Against AIDS. And the talent is ecstatic about joining in.

"It's the 13th annual event; not to be superstitious, but we'll just call it the 12th annual rerun," says the promoter, DJ G-Spot. "In the past, waitresses would even donate their tips. People would help out and do what they could." All the proceeds from this party will go to the Life Foundation, a nonprofit organization that has been providing the community with free condoms, health information, care and support since 1993.

DJs Against AIDS, 9 p.m. Thursday, Lotus Soundbar, 2301 Kūhiō Ave. Suite 118; $10; 924-1688, www.lotusoundbar.com, www.djsagainstaids.com.

Sugar-free bliss

At Sweet Nothings' cream puffs, pies, tarts. Can you believe they're sugar-free? Each is packed with sugar substitutes. Co-owner Darin Oyama says, "I really need something like this in Hawai'i, for diabetics and everyone." Make sure to try the cream puffs, original or chocolate — each puff consists of the perfect flaky crust with a creamy light filling. It's mouth-watering goodness without the guilt. Sweet Nothings, 1218 Waimanu St., Suite 102; 593-1234.
